DATA COLLECTION DESCRIPTION

EUROBAROMETER 52.0: EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT ELECTIONS, THE SINGLE EUROPEAN CURRENCY, AND FINANCIAL SERVICES, OCTOBER-NOVEMBER 1999 (ICPSR 2892)

SUMMARY: This round of Eurobarometer surveys queried respondents on standard Eurobarometer measures, such as how satisfied they were with their present life, whether they attempted to persuade others close to them to share their views on subjects they held strong opinions about, whether they discussed political matters, how important the role of the European Union (EU) will be in their daily life over the next five years, and how they viewed the need for societal change. Additional questions focused on the respondents' knowledge of and opinions on the EU, including how well-informed they felt about the EU, what sources of information about the EU they used, whether their country had benefited from being an EU member, and the extent of their personal interest in EU matters. Other major areas of focus in the surveys included European Parliament elections, the single European currency (the euro), and respondents' experiences with financial services. Respondents were asked which television news programs they watched, which newspaper(s) they read, and how much attention they gave to politics, social issues, the European Union, the economy, sports, the environment, foreign policy, and culture. They were also asked whether they voted in the most recent European Parliament elections, what their reasons were for voting or not voting, and how they viewed the importance and power of the European Parliament in the European Union. A number of questions probed for respondents' knowledge and use of the euro, whether they worried about changing to the euro, and what they thought about the timing of the change to the euro and about legislation surrounding the euro. Another set of questions queried respondents about financial services and obstacles to using those services, means of payment for important purchases, bank accounts, post office accounts, loans, and mortgages. Standard demographic information was collected on left-right political self-placement, marital status, age at completion of education, current age, sex, number of people in the household, number of children in the household, current occupation, previous occupation, household income, size of locality, and region of residence.

UNIVERSE: Citizens of the European Union aged 15 and over residing in the 15 EU member countries: Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, and the United Kingdom.

SAMPLING: Multistage national probability samples.

NOTE: (1) The files included with this release of the collection derive from the data producer, INRA (International Research Associates [Europe]), and have not been processed in any way. (2) The data and SPSS data definition statements have been updated by the data producer to include Variables D8 and D11 and to exclude Variables D8_B and D11_B. (3) The documentation (codebook and SPSS data definition statements) for this collection contains characters with diacritical marks used in many European languages. Users will need DOS code page 850 to view and print these characters. (4) The SPSS data definition statements contain references to Norway, but Norway was not a participant in this wave of Eurobarometer surveys and this collection contains no data for Norway. (5) The codebook is provided by the data producer as a Portable Document Format (PDF) file. The PDF file format was developed by Adobe Systems Incorporated and can be accessed using PDF reader software, such as the Adobe Acrobat Reader. Information on how to obtain a copy of the Acrobat Reader is provided on the ICPSR Web site.
